

Instructor Bent Christiansen

B.A., Business Economics, University of California, Los Angeles; M.Div. & Th.M., The Master's Seminary; Pastor, Church Revitalization and Church Planting.

Instructor of Old Testament and Biblical Languages

Bent Christiansen has been engaged in local and international ministry since 2005. After earning his B.A. with honors from UCLA, he completed both his Master of Divinity and Master of Theology degrees at The Master's Seminary, graduating with honors. He underwent additional intensive ministry training at Harvest Bible Fellowship Training Center in Elgin, Illinois.

Bent's academic interests include biblical languages and Old Testament studies. He has published scholarly research in leading journals such as Vetus Testamentum and Zeitschrift für die alttestamentliche Wissenschaft, contributing to the field of Biblical Hebrew linguistics and translation.

Throughout his ministry, Bent has served in a range of pastoral roles—including as Founding Pastor of Foundry Bible Fellowship in Costa Mesa, CA, Missions Pastor at Compass Bible Church in Aliso Viejo, CA, and as a Church Revitalization Specialist in the Pacific Northwest. He has led cross-cultural teaching and strategy roles internationally, including gospel outreach and ministry training in the Middle East and support for gospel workers across Asia and South America.

He currently serves in discipleship and volunteer leadership at Calvary Crossway in Castle Rock, Colorado. Bent is passionate about expository preaching, leadership development, and equipping future leaders for faithful ministry. He and his family reside in Colorado.
